What we do

How does Rocky Mountain Bank protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does Rocky Mountain Bank collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or apply for a loan
- Make deposits or withdrawals from your account
- Pay your bills or use your credit or debit card

We can also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choices will apply to everyone on your account.
